

Research Volunteers Needed!

Are you a clinician who has been part of an adverse clinical event? Did it lead to a career transition into a new role or position? If you answered yes, we need your insights!

Researchers at University of Missouri Health Care and University of Massachusetts-Boston researchers are seeking clinicians to participate in a short online survey about the impact of adverse clinical events on career transitions.

The survey takes about 10 minutes. Responses are anonymous and confidential. You can take the survey by clicking this link.
